Question: There is no line item for bidding on soil borings or associated analytical – to be included in “other”?

Answer: The Task Table on the bid document has been revised to include a row for this.

Question: 2. There is no requirement of line item cost for TCLP testing – to be included in “other”?

Answer: The Task Table on the bid document has been revised to include a row for this.

Question: 3. Scope states borings to be advanced after excavation to assess extent exceeding RCLs – is this correct or will they be advanced first?

Answer: The soil borings are intended to assess the extent of contamination, not determine the extent of the remedial excavation. Therefore, they can be completed before, during, or after the excavation.
